The Healing Place Welcomes Author Scott Wittig for Book Signing

Event on February 9 at 7 PM at the Men's Facility in Raleigh

Raleigh— The Healing Place of Wake County announced that on Tuesday evening, February 9th at 7 PM, the Men's Facility will host Author Scott Wittig for an exclusive book signing of Holy IT! On hand will be WRAL's Pam Saulsby, Lisa Rousseau and Barrett Joyner from The Healing Place as well as clients and special guests.

"The Healing Place" says Scott, "is a facility in Raleigh that serves homeless men and women who are suffering from addiction. Lisa Rousseau, an employee there, is featured in my book and has been kind enough to offer to host this event. I've been to a similar event at The Healing Place in the past and it was incredibly moving because the residents participate, not only by listening to the speakers but in another surprising and fun way that you can only fully appreciate by being there!"

At the event you will hear from people who have read Holy IT! - about the lessons they've learned from it and how it has affected their lives. Scott will give a short talk and read a few of his favorite passages as well. To learn more about Scott, visit him on Facebook.

About The Healing Place

The Healing Place of Wake County is a non-profit 501 (c) (3) recovery and rehabilitation facility for homeless people with alcohol and other drug dependency. The Men's Facility opened its doors in 2001 and the Women's Facility began operation in 2006. The Healing Place facilities have provided more than 500,000 beds of shelter and days of recovery to homeless men and women at a cost of less than $30 per client per day. Remarkably, one year after program completion over 65% of the graduates from the program are still sober, employed, tax paying citizens. The Healing Place of Wake County is built on the principles of the highly successful Healing Place in Louisville KY, which received the 1998 US Department of Health Resources and Service Administration "Models That Work Award" in recognition of the success of the program.
